EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION.

 The Calendar now printed by me—practically for my own use while editing the Norfolk Visitations—was compiled from the original roll by the late John L'Estrange of Norwich, possibly the most industrious local antiquary of this century. He began to print it in the East Anglian Notes and Queries, but that publication stopping in 1871, nothing beyond "F" got into type.

On his premature death the MS. was bought by me, and all I have done to it is to arrange it lexicographically and see it through the press. I have not had the opportunity of reading or checking the proofs with the original roll, so must distinctly disclaim any responsibility for any errors which may have been made in the transcript, and wish to warn my readers that it by no means follows that what is here printed is all that is contained in the roll, so anyone interested in any entry should look at the original.

extend to folio 139. It is not quite clear at what date the book was first used for these lists: a careful examination leads to the conclusion that it could not have been earlier than 1377; and it is not until 1399 that it has the appearance of being entered up year by year. In the reigns of Edward II. and III. there are some important gaps. The 12th and 14th years of Edward II. are wanting, and there are no entries from the 2nd to the 11th of Edward III. inclusively. The 16th, 24th, and 28th years of that king are also missing. There is only one entry in the 29th, and no more until the 38th Edward III., from which date the entries appear to be perfect. Down to 1450 the names are recorded generally in years as follows:—

But in 1450, in the mayoralty of Thomas Aleyn, it was ordered that all who should thereafter be admitted to the freedom of the city should be entered under their respective trades, and the book, commencing at folio 55, was parcelled out under the several heads of Mercers, Grocers, Drapers, Worsted Weavers, Lysters, Peyntors, Goldsmythes, Screvenors, ffysshmongers, Skynners, Tayllours, Weuers, Fullers, Shermen, Bedweavers, Carpenters, Masons, Barkers, Cordewaners, Bakers, Bochers, Barbours, Rafmen, Smythes, Brasyers, Bowers, Cotelers, Reders, Sadelers, Vynters, Carters, and Skeppers.

The names of those who had been admitted from the 1st Henry IV. were then posted up under their respective trades, where they could be ascertained, and the following are examples of the manner in which subsequent entries were made :—

Fo. 55.

Robertus Aleyn, junior, Mercer, quondam apprenticius, Roberti Toppe Civis et Aldermanni et Mercer Norwici, ac filius Roberti Aleyn, Junioris, de Erlham, Civis Norwici probavit per sacramentum suum libertatem patris sui tempore Thomæ Aleyn, Maioris, Thomæ Jngham, Junioris, Camerarij, et Roberti Heyham, Clerici, ibidem et habet inde copiam suam tam sigillo officij Maioratus quam Camerarii sigillatam.

Fo. 59.

Ricardus Russell, Grocer, nuper apprenticius, Thomæ Aleyn, Civis et Grocer et Aldermanni Norwici, admissus fuit ad libertatem dictæ Civitatis xv° die Julij Anno regni regis Henrici sexti xxix° tempore Radulphi Segrym' maioris; Thomæ Jngham, Junioris, Camerarij, et Roberti Heyham, Clerici ibidem.

Later entries are shortened by the omission in most instances of the fathers and the masters as well as those of the Chamberlain and Town Clerk.

Altogether the book contains about 6250 admissions to the freedom of the city, and down to 1450 the entries are as concise as can be desired. To look for any one name is comparatively a trifling task, but after 1450 it is tedious in the extreme; and having had frequently occasion to search this book, and the information it contains appearing to be of such varied interest and use, I have been anxious to render it available to antiquaries generally. To print or even to transcribe the record as it stands after 1450 is clearly out of the question, and to present it in the form of an index seems, on many grounds, the best plan that can be adopted. All the information afforded by the original is given in a tabular form, and any unusual entry is produced in a note. The spelling has not been altered except in the names of still existing trades, which, being sometimes in Latin and sometimes in English, have been in one case translated and in the other reduced to modern orthography; but I have compiled, from the original, an alphabetical list of the names of the various trades, professions, and descriptions, and have ventured to add notes, in most instances asking for rather than professing to convey information:—

PARDONER, a man who begged with an indulgence or pardon granted by a Bishop, Archbishop, or the Pope. These pardons seem to have been in some cases akin to the briefs of later times, and were granted amongst others to persons whose houses had been burnt, or who had met with some misfortune. PURSUIVANT, a messenger.

PINNER, a pin maker. Entered with saddlers.

QWYLWRYGHTE, a wheelwright.

RAFMAN. This trade is first found 13th and 14th Richard II. Mr. Harrod, in Norfolk Archæology, vol. iii. p. 5, says "Blomefield explains (vol. iii. p. 207) that Raffmen were those that dealt in rafts or timber pieces. This, however, is an error. They are continually found associated with the grocers; and their occupation is indicated by the following extract from among a number of similar character in the Assembly Books. 'This day it is ordeyned that non occupacon, but only Raffemen, shall w^tin this Citie bye any rowe (rough) talowe and thei to make it in candell and sell it forth.' They were chandlers. Blomefield may have been led into error from the watermen and boatmen being entered up under the head of Raffmen."

ROPER.

SADDLER.

SAUCER. Qy. a salt dealer.—Riley.

SERGAUNT. See Common Sergaunt, an officer to make arrests.

SERGAUNT and skinner.

A great majority of early surnames were derived from the names of places,[3] but some were taken from the trades

[3] Out of the first 212 names in the book, which take us down to 1st Edward III. inclusively, speaking roughly, 124 are derived from the names of places, nine from trades, and 79 from other sources. The prefix "de" goes out about the end of the reign of Richard II., 1399, although here and there an example may be found in the reign of Henry IV., 1399-1413.

followed by the individuals who bore them, or by their immediate ancestors; thus, amongst others, Adam le Rollere, 14th and 15th Edward III.; Richard Cardemaker, 19th and 20th Edward III.; Thomas Tassemaker, 23rd Edward III.; Robert Armurer, 38th Edward III.; Roger Glaswright of Lynn, 43rd Edward III.; John Comber, 18th and 19th Richard II.; John Jonyour, 2nd Henry IV.; William Wyredrawer, 9th Henry V.

There are some instances in the early part of the record, and they become more numerous later on, as surnames began to be transmitted from father to son, of persons with trade names exercising other trades than their names indicate; thus, Stephen Sherman, shoemaker, 12th and 13th Richard II.; Martin Fuller le Webster, 16th and 17th Richard II.; John Barker, bocher, 6th Henry IV.; John Thaxster, bocher, 1st Henry V. But it seems probable that most of the early trade names really indicated the occupation of their owners, and thus a few more names of trades may be added to the preceding list:—

Bookeeynder, Adam (10th and 11th Ric. II.)
Beasman, Peter, 38th Edward III.
Groem, John Le, 19th Edward II.
Mareschal, Alan Le, a farrier.
Orlogger, Walter, 7th Henry V., a clock or dial maker.
Potter, Thomas, 40th Edward III.
Rentegaderare, Reginald.

Solfaa Ralph (11th Henry IV.) must surely have been a singer, on the same principle that Walter ffleighe was a butcher, John Pumpe a cordwainer, and John Walklate a pedder.
